Students Help Design Building

Albuquerque-based architects Cynthia Figueroa-McInteer and Julie Walleisa paid a visit to the students of Southern Ute Montessori Head Start on Oct. 14 as part of their design strategy for a new Head Start building. The students were divided into small groups to work with the designers on features they'd like to see. Material samples were laid out for one group of kids to gauge their reactions, while another group took a cutand-paste approach to a catalog, selecting items of interest. One young student, Eva, is intently fulfilling her assignment as part of the classroom project.

Council Hosts European Pros in Exchange Program

The Southern Ute Drum

In a departure from the school groups that frequently tour the Southern Ute Reservation, the Tribal Council met Oct. 12 with a group of five European working professionals visiting the states as part of the Washington, D.C.based Marshall Memorial Fellowship program. The visitors came with questions about the Tribe's culture, political structure, history and social issues. They included Markus Biegel, head of the Department for Drinking Water Supply in Dresden, Germany; Tamás Bodoky, a freelance journalist from Budapest, Hungary; Katerina Economakou, a journalist and blogger from Athens, Greece; Suela Jahaj, project coordinator for the AGENDA Institute in Tirana, Albania; and Christian Olufsen, a liaison officer in the Danish Defense Intelligence Service Copenhagen, Denmark.

"It's very helpful to learn between the lines," Economakou said of the group's visit with the council. "I can gain more perspective into Americans and the American way of life."

Founded in 1982, the Marshall Memorial Fellowship aims to "introduce a new generation of European leaders to the United States," according to its website

By Ace Stryker at www.gmfus.org Each year, fellows spend 24 days visiting five different cities in the United States, meeting with policy makers and community leaders. The trip to Ignacio was part of a larger visit to Durango in which the fellows also toured Mesa Verde National Park and the Ute Mountain Ute Reservation, rode Durango Silverton Narrowgauge Railroad, and explored Silverton. Questions for the council ranged from how political sovereignty is preserved to whether the Tribe can maintain its membership numbers into the future. Regarding the Tribe's biggest challenge today, Councilman Steve Herrera said it's educating its youth in Southern Ute traditions.

Olufsen said he viewed the fellowship as a "life experience," adding his focus was on sorting out the similarities and differences between Americans and Europeans.

Jahaj said she hoped to "separate fact from fiction" with regard to American life. "I personally believe there are some clichés," she said.

There are 14 fellows total, which are split into three groups rotating around the country. Other cities on the tour include Bismarck, N.D.; Memphis, Tenn.; Detroit; Houston; San Francisco; Lexington, Ky.; Pittsburgh; West Palm Beach, Fla. and New York City.

The fellowship is a program of the German Marshall Fund of the United States, a nonpartisan institution founded in 1972 through a gift of 150 million Deutsche mark (approximately $50 million) to memorialize Marshall Plan assistance following World War II.

Important Reminders for Tribal Hunters

With hunting season upon us again, the Southern Ute Wildlife Division would like to provide some important reminders to tribal hunters. By keeping these basics in mind when you're hunting, you can help ensure it will be a safe and successful season.

- While hunting during the General Season, wear 500 inches of blaze orange, which must include both a vest and head covering.
- Avoid hunting in populated areas, especially around homesites, buildings, and outdoor locations where people might be present.
- Be sure of your target and don't take risky shots. Check to make sure you have a clear line-of-sight, the shot is a makeable distance and you know what is behind the animal you are shooting at.
- Know your location and never trespass! Hunting is NOT allowed on private property, tribal allotments, or tribal assignments without first obtaining access permission.
- As a tribal hunter, make sure that any non-member guests that accompany you while hunting on the reservation are properly permitted. Only the permitted tribal hunter is allowed to carry or discharge a firearm while hunting on the reservation.
- Whether you're a beginning hunter or seasoned veteran, consider taking a hunter dducation class. Topics covered include hunting regulations, hunter ethics, and safe firearm handling. The class is mandatory for any hunter under age 21.

For more information on any of these requirements, call the Southern Ute Wildlife Division at 970-563-0130. Good hunting!

M SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS SCORPIO! A powerful NEW MOON in your own sign commences a fresh cycle for you to enjoy. No doubt you've discovered a brighter way of looking at the world. It's all about you this month SCORPIO. Chances are that you're no longer content to live up to other's expectations of you. With PLUTO your ruling planet currently in the communication house of your chart, keeping your opinions to yourself is just not working anymore. PLUTO is THE regeneration planet, and SCORPIO is THE regeneration sign. Keep looking forward, and leave the past behind. Goooooo SCORPIO!

✗ SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)

With both MARS and MERCURY activating your sign with energy to spare, indecision just won't do! The blazing SUN returns to your sign after the 21st and jump-starts your personal engine. As Thanksgiving draws closer, pay attention to all your communications Saggies. Remember: yours is the sign that can sometimes be bluntly outspoken. A more diplomatic approach would be best at the Thanksgiving table this year.

% CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 20)

Hopes and wishes can and should be pushed to the top of your list now. Favorable planetary positions this month promote positive conversations and lucrative opportunities. Circle the 15th, 17th, and 30th as beneficial days to pursue your top priorities. Move beyond your limitations CAPRICORN. Yours is the sign of ambition, and success. The NEW MOON on the 6th sets your month off on a promising note. Future plans put into motion now have a greater probability of achievement.

≈ AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)

Career minded AQUARIANS take note: This November is a favorable time for you to showcase your talents. With the SUN shining high in your solar chart all month, recognition of your abilities could soon be forthcoming. The planets have moved into an agreeable financial pattern. But be advised that they won't just drop money down from the sky. Use both your intuitive and your inventive capabilities and get to work AQUARIUS!

⊬ PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)

According to this month's planetary positions it looks like you'll be going off to Grandma's house for Turkey Day Little Fishes. The mighty SUN currently in the travel section of your chart will brilliantly light the way. As an added bonus El Sol is also moving through a water sign, your element, signifying plans that fall together easily. You couldn't ask for a more compatible month. Look for some type of financial boost after the 18th when VENUS the money planet reactivates again. The bottom line this holiday...have fun!!

Y ARIES (March 21-April 20)

Generally speaking there's one subject that that RAMS worry about often...MONEY. Either the lack of it, or how to hang on to it when you have it. November's planetary pattern put's the emphasis on debts, balances, and income. A NEW MOON on the 6th launches a favorable cycle that might improve your current financial situation. Resist loaning money to friends. Instead, concentrate on eliminating outstanding bills. The 15th is a great day to begin. Once you take action the worry lessens, and the tension eases.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21)

The Solar System has a definite plan of beginnings and endings scheduled for your sign this month. All you need do is to adopt a more flexible attitude, and let go of outworn ideas, and old habits. It won't be easy TAURUS, as old habits die hard. But the FULL MOON on the 21st, at the tail end of your sign signals a great opportunity to end old routines. Additionally your personal planet VENUS turns direct on the 18th and revitalizes both you and your personal relationships.

Ⅲ GEMINI (May 21-June 21)

An intense NEW MOON on the 6th brings a revived awareness of your work situation. There's a possibility of a job offer at month's end. Yes TWINS, there are also certain responsibilities to live up to and they must be taken care of before you can move on. Do what you can to tiptoe around thorny financial issues. Particularly with those who are the closest to you. Is having the last word THAT important?

○ CANCER (June 22-July 22)

A very friendly NEW MOON launches your month on a positive note. It's up to you to keep the momentum going. Listen to your instincts MOON KIDS. They will never steer you wrong, especially this month. Travel, entertainment, and having fun with family members are all a part of November's planetary menu. Two of the Solar System's giants, JUPITER and URANUS have your back. With that kind of planetary assistance this should be a Thanksgiving to remember.

∂ LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

The SUN...your mighty sign-ruler teams up with super JUPITER on the 15th and expands your thoughts. Set your holiday ideas into motion LIONS. But keep in mind that your plans may take just a bit longer to come together. Don't be too proud to enlist the aid of a relative or two. This month's celestial line up might have you feeling a bit apprehensive about all the preparations. Not to worry LEO... you usually manage to pull it all together in grand style. After the 21st the SUN shifts into friendly SAGITTARIUS brightening your mood. You might even end up looking forward to a fun Turkey Day.

M VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sep. 23)

Even the most reserved Virgo folks may raring to go this month. Both travel and social arrangements are high on your agenda. Old insecurities might surface from time to time as JUPITER and URANUS continue to swim through your opposite sign of PISCES. Sidestep the tendency to argue with those closest to you. Try to express your thoughts tactfully and clearly. It's OK to be honest with others but do it in a nice way. Others will remember your words for a longer time.

∩ LIBRA (Sep. 24-Oct. 23)

VENUS your bright and shining planetary ruler comes back to your sign on the 7th. And what a joyful reunion that will be. Make the most of it LIBRA, VENUS will only stay until the 28th. However, in between those dates you can be just like your planet...bright and shining, and loaded with charm! This is the month to dazzle them with your winning personality. Whatever VENUS wants, VENUS gets!

Public Input Sought on Tri-state Transmission Line

The San Juan National Forest Columbine and Pagosa Ranger Districts are seeking public input during the early phases of planning for the Bayfield-to-Pagosa Tri-state 115 kilovolt transmission line reauthorization. The project crosses about 21 miles of public lands, roughly paralleling Highway 160 across the Columbine and Pagosa Ranger Districts of the San Juan National Forest. The purpose of this project is to reauthorize the transmission line's special use permit to allow for continued safe and reliable operation and regular maintenance of the existing transmission line in compliance with Tri-state and NERC/FERC standards. The power line is the sole power source to the Pagosa Springs area. Included in the proposed action are the following: improvement of some access routes for transmission line maintenance activities; continued operation and planned/routine maintenance, and emergency practices, associated with the transmission line, which may require large vehicle access; and vegetation and noxious weed management for the transmission line ROW and access routes. For further details on this project proposal, call Keith Fox, Ecosphere Environmental Services project manager, at 970-382-7256. Written public input should be submitted by Friday, Nov. 5 to Cam Hooley, Columbine Public Lands, P.O. Box 439, 367 S. Pearl St., Bayfield, CO, 81122 or by email to chooley@fs.fed.us. Input in response to this solicitation, including names and addresses, will be considered part of the public record and will be available for public inspection. For more information, call Cam Hooley at 970-884-1414.

Learn to Skate on Saturdays

The Kidney Corner: 'White Coat Syndrome' Can Spike BP

By Dr. Mark Saddler Durango Nephrology Associates

Many people are concerned about the fact that their blood pressure varies from time to time.

This can be frustrating for patients who are motivated to have tight blood pressure control, because it can be high when they are in the doctor's office and normal when at home. Blood pressure variability is especially problematic for dialysis patients who tend to have high blood pressure before dialysis and normal or low when pressure they are on the dialysis machine.

It is difficult as a physician to know how best to treat these patients, remembering that if blood pressure is dropped too low, patients can feel lightheaded and fatigued.

Why does blood pressure vary? Remember that the heart and cardiovascular system have to get the body prepared for emergencies. When danger or stress is anticipated, our blood pressure and pulse tend to increase in order to have our body primed to respond with a that for most patients with this burst of energy, if needed.

This concept has led to the perception that prolonged stress may cause sustained high blood pressure, and although it is difficult to measure stress in a research center, it is generally felt by the medical community that high stress levels do, in fact, lead to high blood pressure.

Some people have an exaggerated blood pressure response to stress. These individuals may have "white coat syndrome," implying that when the patient sees the doctor's white coat, this is sufficient to raise his or her blood pressure. These days fewer doctors actually wear white coats, but the clinical name for this problem has stuck.

Experimental evidence shows syndrome, the blood pressure will rise to some extent when a nurse measures the blood pressure, and will increase still more if a doctor takes the pressure. Apparently, doctors seem to elicit more stress than nurses!

One way for us as doctors to address this problem is to have patients measure their own blood pressures at home. A number of inexpensive blood pressuremeasuring devices are available for home use.

I encourage patients to take their blood pressure at various times during the day, and to have as many home readings as possible for me to see at their visits to the clinic. It's best to keep a written record of home blood pressures. I then use these readings to calculate an average, which I use to decide what treatment would be best. I also like to check home blood pressure equipment in the clinic intermittently to make sure they are giving accurate readings.

We sometimes use a more sophisticated type of home blood pressure machine for specific patients whose blood pressure remains difficult to assess. These "ambulatory blood pressure monitors" automatically record blood pressures in patients both while they are awake and asleep, since sleeping blood pressure has recently been shown to be very important in the assessment of cardiovascular risk.

Health Departments Urge Providers to Get Flu Shot

Media Release Montezuma counties urge other Southwest Colorado Public Health Dept.

Southwest Colorado public health departments are joining together in encouraging all their employees to get the seasonal flu shot.

Archuleta, Dolores, La Plata, and health providers in the region to get their annual flu shot as well.

Annual vaccination against influenza is recommended for health care personnel. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention lists this group of peo-The directors of Public Health in ple in its recommendations because they often interact with and treat individuals who are sick. A flu shot not only protects the health care worker from getting ill from the flu, but also protects the patient. This is especially important for patients with chronic diseases or who are immune suppressed, and therefore more at risk for complications if they do get the flu.

2010 Southern Ute General Election

James M. Olguin

I am seeking election for one of the council seats this coming November. I ask you to cast your vote for me with confidence that I will represent you with integrity, dignity, dedication and loyalty.

My perspective comes from 32 continuous years of employment with our Tribe. I have served in many positions, from field work to leadership roles. I served you, the membership, as a council member from 2000 to 2003. Today I work as vice president of regulatory management for Sky Ute Sand and Gravel.

I see and appreciate the progress we have made. I honor our heritage, culture, traditions and history. I am a candidate because I want to continue and preserve our successes.

While our success is easy to see, it is also easy to see areas in which we can improve. I want to be part of the solution! I see need for further growth and development in several areas.

Education and jobs: I dream of a day when more tribal members are working for both the governmental and business sides of the Tribe, not because it's the only place they can work, but because they can work anywhere and choose to work for and contribute to the success of our Tribe. The path to that type of world comes from both young and old gaining skills, education, experience, insight and work ethic. A person with these traits is of no use to an organization if they lack a strong work ethic – a desire to contribute and a disciplined approach to that contribution. Coming to work on time, playing by the same rules as the rest of the team members, and exerting effort to complete the tasks are fundamental. This type of ethic should be taught by example from those in leadership positions.

- Financial strength: The Financial Plan has served us well over the last 10 years, but the world has changed and will continue to do so. We must continually re-evaluate our financial plans and decisions to both protect what we have built and ensure continued growth without undue risk.
- Ethic and moral conduct: Tribal leaders are subject to constant scrutiny and judgment. Their actions, personal and professional, will be judged. A true leader acts with the highest integrity. Trust and respect are earned by how we conduct ourselves, through ethical and moral behavior.
- Information and transparency: I see a need to bring more information to tribal members, but protect certain private issues from others. I think this is especially important in the area of financial information.
- Programs and services: I strongly believe the Tribe needs to clearly define how its programs and services meet the needs of our people. The programs should be designed in ways that are fair and consistent, that serve the long-term best interest of our people. They should not exist to serve shortterm, selfish, individually based thinking.

I would be honored again to serve the Tribe as a member of Tribal Council. If given the opportunity, I will not let you down.

Kevin R. Frost

New ideas with old traditions Greetings. fellow tribal members.

My name is Kevin R. Frost, and I am seeking the office of tribal councilman. I have resided both on and off the reservation and currently live on the "dry side." As a candidate, I am aware there have been no significant changes in the "quality of life" for tribal members. All tribal members must share in any benefits arising from the Tribe's prosperity.

The day-to-day needs of our members are not being addressed by the current tribal government. Many members no longer believe they have a role in the Tribe's direction and future. This disenfranchisement of the membership is leading our Tribe down a dangerous path, one from which we may not recover. As a tribal member, you have the right to know what your elected leaders are doing, what contracts they are entering into on behalf of the membership, and how each council member votes on issues presented before them. An open government is necessary so tribal members' concerns can be discussed and resolved.

Tribal member participation is an important part of an open government. Tribal members must be able to meet with Tribal Council to assure member needs are met. "Executive sessions" need to be discontinued. Access to information allows the membership to help Tribal Council make a culturally relevant decision. The time has come for new leadership and advocacy that will represent the membership's needs and concerns.

Nothing is set in stone. Together, we can shape our future and revise old resolutions and codes to reflect the current needs of our members. I am ready to address the following issues: tribal member employment and job security; home ownership; tribal businesses and financial ventures; health care; culture and language; and education.

I am a graduate of the University of Denver's Sturm College of Law. The problems facing our tribal government today revolve around rules and regulations governed by law. Today's tribal leaders must understand how laws shape their decisions on and off the reservation. Our Tribal Council is bound by our Constitution to act in the best interest of the membership. My education has provided me with a firm understanding of the law and how it affects the day-to-day operations of our tribal government as well as the Tribe's businesses and financial ventures. I can effectively interpret our Constitution to safeguard our resources and sovereignty and make sure the best interests of the tribal members come first.

Our future depends on your participation. Together we can set goals to achieve the highest level of success while maintaining our tradition and culture. I am ready to work with all tribal members to lead our Tribe toward self-sufficiency. I humbly ask for your support so we can accomplish these goals together and improve our "quality of life."

You can email me at vote4frost@gmail.com or sign up for my campaign group on Facebook (search: "New Ideas With Old Traditions").

Barbara Scott-Rarick

Greetings, Southern Ute tribal members. My name is Barbara Scott-Rarick. I am the eldest daughter of the late Herbert L. Scott (Navaho) and Mary Ann (Williams) Scott (Southern Ute). My grandmother was Belle (Williams) Cuthair and my grandfather was Hickey Williams of Weaselskin area. I was born and raised Durango, Colo., while my family ranged sheep, cattle and horses in the Weaselskin area on land my mother was raised on.

This is where I live today. I am asking for your vote during the 2010 upcoming election.

I have held numerous jobs in the field of criminal justice and as a private consultant with expertise on child abuse, sexual assault, domestic violence and program development. In 2009, I was elected to serve out the remaining one-year term left vacant due to chairman elections.

I learned much about the day-to-day operations of the Southern Ute tribal organization; most of all, I learned the responsibility one must have in order to be a productive and effective Tribal Council member. It is the responsibility of a Tribal Council member to place in the highest esteem the accountability factor to the membership. I did this by attending meetings on time and being prepared. It is imperative to be to work on time due to the fact there are numerous meetings scheduled through out any give day of the week; early morning meetings and late evening meetings take place regularly. Business can not be conducted unless there is a quorum!

I demonstrated during the one-year term I can be at work on time and prepared to discuss the topics of the day – prepared by researching issues when a question arose, discussing the outcome with other council members, and reading the numerous documents given to council.

The following issues are just a few of the concerns to be reviewed and addressed:

- Growth Fund: We heard the mission statement of the GF. It needs to hold true to the tribal membership. Review the policy of bonus distribution.
- Off-reservation resources: We should not penalize the off-reservation tribal members, but
- look to see in what way services can be fair to all. • Contract employees: Ensure the contracts are adhered and complied with by the employee prior to approval for another term.

These are just a few of the issues that need to be addressed to demonstrate to the overall membership that we, the people, matter to Tribal Council.

In closing, in the past year there has been much conversation regarding the dysfunction of our current council: members who don't come to work, no communication between members, individuals walking out of council meetings and not understanding the documents brought before them.

I worked with all members even when we disagreed with one another. I attended work on time and when required. I was prepared to attend meetings, taking on issues which may have been difficult. I did the job.

I am asking for your vote on Nov. 5. EVERY VOTE COUNTS!

Janelle Raye Doughty

October 27, 2006

Our tribal government exists to serve its members, not to be served.

The Tribal Council and our governmental institutions must be fair, open and accountable in order to protect our land and water, and to ensure our survival as people. In order to be respected, the Tribal Council must first and always show respect to every member of the Tribe. Only in that way will the council maintain the sovereignty that our ancestors and elders sacrificed to create.

I'm running for Tribal Council because I believe in the Tribe - in the sacrifices our ancestors and elders have made, and what the Southern Ute people have achieved and will become. I want to serve you and our Tribe because the Tribal Council can't afford to lose a single tribal member or leave any-

Through years of work for the Tribe with the Social Services Department and Victim Services Program, and as the former director of the Justice and Regulatory Department, I've been privileged to serve you before and would be honored to do so on the Tribal Council. It's my belief that in order to be successful, the Tribal Council must establish strong communications with the membership so we can make informed decisions and be truly empowered to serve each other and the community we love.

As your tribal councilperson, I'll work to provide transparency and remain committed to a system that lets tribal members access information about tribal government, the Growth Fund, the Casino, and all our tribal resources. I plan to focus on critical six areas:

- Culture and language: As Utes, our language, traditions and culture are what make us unique and set us apart from other people. We as Utes must find opportunities to save, preserve, and protect our language and culture.
- Education: Our past leaders had the foresight to establish a great infrastructure to support educational opportunities. We have the ability to strengthen that system by providing support services to assure the success of our membership through education. All of our educational efforts and resources should build toward employment opportunities for every tribal member. Only through education can we maintain what our elders have sacri-
- Employment: All tribal members should have the opportunity to work if we choose. Those members who learned through the educational program should have the ability to return to the Tribe to seek an opportunity for employment. The ability to create seasonal job opportunities for tribal members is critical. And we must expand and strengthen youth programs to create meaningful and educational working opportunities for our young people.
- Health care: Every tribal member deserves access to top-quality, affordable health care. I absolutely believe that all tribal members MUST gain access to the same quality health care that is provided to our Southern Ute employees. We deserve the best services available in the health care system.
- Housing: Many members of the Tribe are in a housing crisis. The shortage of affordable housing creates massive problems with overcrowding (multiple families in one home). Many of our tribal members' homes are in need of repairs and some are condemned. We need to provide affordable and suitable housing for all of our tribal members. Tribal members would benefit from the pride associated with owning their own homes. Tribal members should not have to move from the reservation in order to have access to suitable housing.
- Investments: Southern Ute tribal members are the rightful owners of all the assets of the Southern Ute Growth Fund. The Tribal Council must create a system that provides transparency and accountability for the dealings and investments of the Growth Fund. Tribal members should have a clear understanding and the knowledge about all entities associated with the Growth Fund. Tribal members should also have the opportunity to invest in the Growth Fund financial portfolio. Our experts at the Growth Fund should help to educate and assist tribal members in investing their own money.

I ask for your vote. Together, we'll make a new beginning for ALL members of the Southern Ute Tribe.

Candidate Statements

Steve R. Herrera Sr.

Tribal members: I am writing this letter to express my sincere gratitude to you for allowing me to serve as your Tribal Council member for the past three years, and to ask for your continued support in the upcoming general election.

There have been frustration, challenges, accomplishments and failures, but throughout my time on council I feel that I have proven my commitment to the membership by ensuring that my meeting attendance is high and that my participation at other functions and on boards is ongoing as time allows. I have taken the time to know the issues and weigh all of the information before making decisions. I am humble enough to know that I am not any better than anyone else and try always to treat people with the respect that they deserve.

Recently many of you have expressed your frustrations regarding the chairmanship and the administration. I feel the need to express that I too share those frustrations and have not always agreed with the chairman and the administration.

I support the Growth Fund and the Financial Plan. As you all know, the economy has been tough for us all. I believe that because of our Financial Plan and adherence to the plan, we have continued to succeed while the rest of the country has seen businesses and financial institutions fail.

Starting in early 2010, I have participated in discussions regarding our business strategies and capital deployment. Through those discussions, many changes have been made. The Real Estate Group was restructured, exposure in Private Equity investments was reduced through a sale of nonperforming assets, and parts of business assets and locations were sold to become more streamline and profitable.

The recession has been detrimental to our businesses, but I believe that it has proven to be an opportunity to ensure that we rethink our business model as we now know what our strengths are and where there is room for improvement. Continuous monitoring and data collection is being formulated to ensure that future opportunities will be realized.

During my term, I have also supported programs that help strengthen families and encourage education, including but not limited to:

- tion, including but not limited to:
   Southern Ute Indian Montessori Academy
- Ignacio School District Strategic Planning
- Boys and Girls ClubJuvenile Treatment
- Juvenile TreatmentSisters Keeper/Fathers Voices

My fellow tribal members, you have an important task ahead of you. Make sure you have the right information when formulating your decision, and above all please take the time to make your voice heard and vote for the candidate of your choice. If you have any questions or would like to schedule a time to meet, please call me at 970-563-4708.

Intelligence. Integrity. Experience.

The right choice for our community...

Bruce Baizel is well versed in the issues that affect the rural residents of this county. As a rancher, water attorney and oil and gas expert Bruce is the only candidate with the background to represent rural La Plata County.

Tom Givon, Ignacio

Bruce is a real person who walks in our shoes. He represents to me a good voice to represent us over here in the Ignacio area. I had almost given up hope that you could be real and be a politician.

Kasey Correia, Ignacio

As a family that depends upon the land, water and wildlife for our living, we look for leaders dedicated to the careful stewardship of the landscape upon which we all rely. We have seen that commitment in Bruce's work on his family's ranch, in his professional work on oil and gas issues, and in his enjoyment of the backcountry of the San Juan mountains.

Bobcats' Stock Sinks in Bear Market

By Joel Priest Special to the Drum

After last Friday's game, Ignacio High School quarterback Ryan Brooks admitted to playing while a little dinged.

"Well, the first play I hit my knee and tweaked it pretty good," the senior said. "And it was sore ever since ... and there's cuts, scrapes on my arm - [I need] some bags of ice!"

Brooks was fortunate to have carried for five yards on that first offensive snap; the Dolores defense soon had reason to debate whether they'd take paper or plastic after bagging him 11 times behind the scrimmage line in a 32-14 win.

The Bobcats dropped to 1-6 overall (0-3 1A Southern Peaks), as the Bears climbed to 4-3 (3-0).

"It's unbelievably satisfying, from ... last year, getting beat like that," DHS senior Jake Ragland said, alluding to Ignacio's 2009 win in Dolores. "That one hurt. But to come out here, hit them like that and score those points ... couldn't have felt better."

Ragland was particularly problematic, being involved in four of the Bears' sacks and scoring two touchdowns, a 1yard rush with 5:29 left in the third quarter (which held as the game's final score) and a 36yard interception return with 6:45 left in the second. It happened two plays after Dolores senior Ryan Greene put DHS up 12-6 on a 35-yard option pass from senior Austin McCracken.

McCracken hit on two more such throws – one for 43 yards to Simon Condon and one to Tyler Underwood for 65. Quarterback Kolton Shull, oddly, was 0-for-3 passing.

"Well, one of those we planned all week, you know, been working on in practice," Ragland said. "But one we just kind of drew up in the dirt from scratch - saw what they had and it went big!"

Brooks, by press-box count, went 11-of-20 for 123 yards – 80 on two balls to senior Pedro Vigil - and tossed a five-yard TD to junior Alex Pena on Ignacio's first series after halftime. Senior running back Ethan Pearson again picking up the workload for the injury-limited Vigil, who did punt seven times – followed a Jay Black block into the end zone for the two-point conversion, cutting Dolores's lead to 18-14.

"I just kind of went to ... what I thought was the back of the end zone," Pena said. "And I looked for that pass, reached up and pulled my feet together ... then just fell back and thought I was in bounds."

Brooks added the touchdown came on a "busted" play.

"[It] wasn't supposed to be a pass," he said.

Brooks's 1-yard TD run, which tied the count at 6-6 on the possession before Greene's grab, probably would also have fallen in the wasn't-supposedto-be batch, had it not been for an alert offensive lineman.

Pearson gained about five yards on a third-down rush - immediately after a 33-yard hookup with Brooks was nixed by penalty then had the ball knocked free from behind. Left guard Teagan Overturf sprang into the air to snare the high bounce, then dashed downfield for about 41 yards more to the DHS 2.

"It just popped up and I'd seen it, and I wanted it bad," said Overturf, who later left the game with a shoulder out of its socket. He didn't return, nor did freshman Adam Herrera, who may have sustained a concussion and didn't please the team's trainer enough to rejoin the fray.

Jeff Herrera joined his teammates on the sideline late as well, while junior classmate Colton Wyatt never suited up, victimized by a foot injury earlier in the week.

Pearson, who left briefly in the third for treatment on his left leg after a Bear's shoestring tackle, battled for, unofficially, 71 yards on 17 carries, and caught five balls for 25 yards. Overturf, as detailed by defensive lineman Tanner Harwood, blocked McCracken's first PAT kick and forced a fumble on a Dolores punt return that junior Shane Richmond recovered.

Freshman Clayton Jefferson recovered another muffed punt to prolong IHS's final possession in the game's waning minutes. That drive existed only after Pena recovered a Greene fumble, forced by Pearson after Greene gained 29 yards, at the Ignacio 5 with 3:05 remaining in the contest.

"Big rivalry game. We really don't like each other much. There was quite a bit of talking going on out there," said Greene, Ignacio's chief antagonist and target. "But it's all in good fun. We got three backs that run their butts off, we knew this week they were a passing team and we came with three different blitzing packages. ... It's nice. If we didn't win a game all season, I'd sure love to win against Ignacio."

Brooks said mental mistakes hurt the team the worst.

"But we'll come out these next two games and get a 'W," Brooks said, anticipating the Oct. 22 home finale at 7 p.m. against Center and the 2010 season finale next week at Del Norte.

"First of all, I'm going to put the responsibility on me. I made some bad plays," he said. "But we all have to execute as a team if we want to be successful; line has to block, I have to make my passes, running backs have to hit the right holes, receivers have to run the right routes. ... It's all a team effort."

"I'm going to lay some hits out," added Black, a senior, "and they're going to be hard so they'd better just watch out for that."

Five-setter Finishes IHS' Regular Season

By Joel Priest Special to the Drum

The final match's unpredictability necessitated far more improvisation than any before.

Spectacular for fans to witness, fun for the players, a hair-puller for coaches – not at all surprising that its winner wasn't declared until after five see-saw sets had been contested.

"I think it's awesome. These days are long even if you only play twice - sitting around, the bus ride, it just makes for a long day," said Ignacio head coach Bayli Stillwell after a 9.5-hourlong day of triangular-style San Juan Basin League volleyball inside Dove Creek's gym. "You never know; it was nice until the very end to see them go for it, not give up, because sometimes we have a tendency to get a little bit lazy. You know, think the play's over when it's not; it's nice to see those long rallies."

With seniors Fantaysha Gallegos and Santana Rodriguez crashing to the floor for numerous ooh-ahh digs, and sophomore Michelle Simmons jumping above the net to stuff enemy attacks, there was an average of six ties per set in the Volleycats' regular-season finale against DCHS. The last came at 11-11, after DC's Madison Young (17 kills) fired three straight aces in the fifth, before four straight Ignacio errors gave the Lady Bulldogs a 25-22, 19-25, 25-23, 23-25, 15-

Sivers deep kill and two Rylie Jefferson aces, to sufficiently separate.

IHS won on a Lady Bulldog passing error off a Gallegos (seven kills) attack from the right

"Yeah we did really good getting to our spots as far as defense goes in the beginning," Sivers said. "And our problem the past couple games is that we hadn't stopped and actually played defense. But we stepped it up, talked. ... It was good."

Rose Mirabal, who led with nine kills and 18 digs. "So we just had to be ready for anything."

Jefferson totaled 21 assists, and she, Rodriguez and Gallegos each booked 15 digs.

"Our biggest problem is that we need to talk," she added. "We talk off the court more than we do on the court. It's like we freeze up."

Against NHS, the No. 6-ranked team in Class 1A [Colorado Preps 10/11 poll, No. 10 in 10/18 poll] prior to a five-set loss to Mancos the previous night, the 'Cats found themselves never leading until Set 3 and trailing by as many as eight in Sets 1 and 2. Which was still too close for the Lady Mavericks' liking.

"Actually this was one of our days where we were more tired! We didn't really show up," said junior Lindsey Stindt. "But we still came through. ... Everyone brought their game, and I think as a team everyone did well with their hitting and blocking. We've really been picking it up as the season goes on."

"We started pretty good - not as good as we usually do," agreed lone senior Emily Winner after the 25-20, -19, -16 sweep. "Saturdays are getting to us, I think!"

Simmons gave Ignacio (5-14, 4-8) a 1-0 lead opening Set 3 on a stuff of Norwood's Harlie Williams, then later served two aces for a quick 5-1 advantage before the springy Stindt began the height-blessed Lady Mavs' rally with a kill off Jefferson. A later 9-0 run put NHS (16-1, 12-1) up 14-6 before Gallegos smashed a back-row kill to get the 'Cats back on serve.

"I didn't think we were very intimidated," Sivers said. "We knew they were tall, so more than likely they were going to be good hitters, and we just knew to bring our defense or we weren't going to stand a chance."

Mirabal led with ten kills against Norwood, while Jefferson spread around 13 assists. Stindt led NHS with 11 kills, Williams had seven to go with ten assists, and junior Katelyn Hardman had 18 assists.

"These were 1A schools and not that they don't matter, but we have to focus on districts, playing a whole 'new' set of teams," Stillwell said. "I think we'll have two full weeks of practice that we can really use to hopefully ... revitalize our spirits."

Set 3 saw Ignacio race out to a 9-3 lead, helped by 3 Simmons aces and a Mariah Vigil overpass-kill, and 15-9 after a sweet Sivers tight-angle tip shot and a Simmons OPK. DC's Jessica close with a few well-timed tied the set at 19, Morgan McCourt put the 'Dogs (7-10 overall, 5-6 SJBL) ahead for good with an ace.

Set 4 featured 12 ties, but the best leads were held by Dove Creek – 3-0, 21-18, and 23-20. - of Dove Creek's Shelbie Simmons stuffed Knuckles (ten Knuckles, and Ignacio soon kills) to end Ignacio's rally after went up 5-1. After Simmons a bad Hankins pass led to a denied Knuckles again to make Heaton hitting error.

"They were throwing first and before the 'Cats went on a 10-2 second balls over, which we're not used to," said IHS senior

"We played our hearts out and it felt good," said DC's Jenna Hankins. "Because we haven't had a win in a while, and we needed it! We've had a lot of trouble with our team ... had a couple girls quit ... so to have a Heaton (32 assists) kept her team win kind of puts us back in it." Life is but a stopping place,
A pause in what's to be,
A resting place along the road,
To sweet eternity,
We all have different journeys,
Different paths along the way,
We all are meant to learn some things

But never meant to stay...
Our destination is a place
Far greater than we know.
For some, the journey's quicker,

For some, the journey's slow,
And when the journey
finally ends,
We'll claim a great reward
And find an everlasting peace,

Need to stop hate crime

CALL FOR APPLICANTS!

AGRICULTURAL COST-SHARE PROGRAM
2011

The Cost-share program is aimed at any land manager living within the exterior boundaries of the Southern Ute Indian Reservation on the Pine, Animas, or Florida watersheds interested in implementing Best Management Practices (BMPs) for more efficient irrigation and/or riparian protection/improvements. Majority of costs are covered by the Tribe through conservation agreements in which BMPs such as, but not limited to, gated pipe, side-roll sprinklers, or riparian fencing are implemented. Such BMPs limit return flows from irrigated land and restore/protect critical riparian zones, thus decreasing erosion and other pollutants into our local watersheds. Projects with the greatest potential for environmental results in water quality improvement are strongly encouraged. Applications will be due by the 30th of November.

To submit your Halloween masterpiece, submit a photograph of your pumpkin (preferably lit) to sudrum@southern-ute.nsn.us. Good luck, and happy carving!

Students Explore Sutherland Farms

Southern Ute Montessori Head Start students and teachers paid a visit to the Sutherland Farms pumpkin patch in Aztec on Monday, Oct. 17. The field trip brought the students out to learn more about agriculture and enjoy a hands-on experience with the day-to-day tasks of a working farm. Students learned about corn varieties, peppers, and livestock, and also released some energy on the corn slide. Estevan Garcia holds his own victory close to his chest - a pumpkin harvested from the patch.
